EPA Region 3 Offers Brownfields Funding Workshop

Did you know that an abandoned gas station is considered a brownfield? A dumpsite and certain pieces of land scarred by mining activity can also be considered a brownfield. Industrial facilities are not the only entities defined as brownfields. You and your locality may be eligible for brownfield funding and don't realize it.

Region 3 of the Environmental Protection Agency is offering a half-day workshop about brownfields funding in Richmond on September 9th. Local governments and nonprofit organizations are encouraged to attend. Federal and state financial and technical resources will be identified along with the following topics:

- What are the different grant types?
- Who is eligible to apply?
- What kind of activities do we fund?
- What is the grant application process?
- What makes a good application?
- Grant writing tips.

Those interested in attending are required to register as soon as possible, as workshop space is limited. To register, send an e-mail including which workshop you will be attending, your name, organization, telephone number, and e-mail address to: region3brownfieldsva@sra.com for the September 9th workshop in Richmond, VA. For more information contact Peter Mason at (207) 846-7808.
