

Annual List of Tradeshows and Conferences Available on Website

Draper Aden Associates' annual calendar list of tradeshows, seminars, workshops and conferences is now available on our website, with links to further information about each event.

The purpose of the calendar list is to provide a quick overview of upcoming training and networking opportunities and sources of information that may be of interest to municipal, industrial and planning development decision makers. The calendar list is not all inclusive -- practicality won't allow us to list all the events -- but representative of professional development and learning opportunities.

Criteria for selection included events located in Virginia or within close proximity, major tradeshows and conferences, and events we thought would be of interest and value to our clients.

The calendar will be updated as new information is available. Go to www.daa.com/calendar.php.
